

Indiana's no call law is an effective law which has greatly reduced the number of annoying telemarketing calls we receive. I respectfully request that any FCC regulation be at least as strong and effective.